Abstract

A DEVICE FOR TREATING HAIR

A device for treating hair comprising a first arm and a second arm connected together at one end thereof, wherein each of said arms comprises a utility portion and a base portion, and wherein at least one of said utility portions is releasebly engageable with its respective base portion.